O. , 2005. LC Number: KF26 . F5 2005i OCLC Number: (OCoLC)64549140 Excerpt: . . . 11 By becoming part of the WTO, China has also been brought into a rules-based system of international trade which gives us critical legal rights we did not have before. But we also face major challenges with China. Our trade deficit with China, as you well know, last year alone was 162 billion. Part of that deficit is because the Chinese do not always play by the rules. If confirmed, I will work closely with Congress and my administration colleagues to see that our workers, farmers, and service providers are treated fairly. Specifically, I will focus on stopping Chinese pirating of U. S. intellectual property, rolling back China's industrial policies that exclude our products, expanding market access for our goods and services, and realizing China's full implementation of its commitments on transparency and distribution rights for American products. As the committee is aware, the Treasury Department has the lead in the critical effort to move China to a flexible, market-based exchange rate. I will strongly support the efforts of Secretary Snow in this regard, and, when the facts support it, I will work with other cabinet colleagues to use the China-specific enforcement tools, such as the China textile safeguards, to protect our markets from disruption. I believe, Mr. Chairman, this more aggressive approach will require a new focus at USTR. If confirmed, I will order an immediate top-to-bottom review of all of our trade issues with China, and I will shift resources and people, as appropriate, to...
