These investigations were pursued in order to obtain some idea of the changes produced in the process of diffusion to which the oils have been subjected in their passage from the place of formation to their present location; also, to gain some idea of the substances present in the natural oil by a separation of the constituents by a process not involving the use of heat, and thereby producing changes by cracking and otherwise. The results obtained when a light oil from Pennsylvania and a heavier oil from Illinois were thus fractionated have already been published. In the present investigation, this method of fractionation was extended to a very heavy petroleum from California. About the...
