Aha! we are sailing very fast. Sam, steer well; look out for the rocks. It blows harder and harder; and the sea runs higher and higher. Ah! the waves come in. Take down the sail. It will be dreadful; let us go towards the shore, lest we perish. Is there a river near? A small river comes in near here; we will fly there. Steer for that place, Sam. Now we are out of danger. A dreadful time! See, how the lake looks! We will perhaps be long wind-bound here. Let us pitch the tent here, boys, it will rain; it is cloudy. It is raining now. Bring in our luggage. We must start early in morning, if it is fine weather. 12. Usual conversation between two Indians, when they meet together in their hunting ground. Halloo! halloo!! I am glad to see you, how do you do? I am very well, and you? I am very well, thank you. What luck have you had? I have been very lucky this week. I have caught twenty beavers and five otters. Did you catch any minks? I have caught sixteen. I have also killed a bear. Was he fat? Very fat. And you, what luck have you had? How is your ground? is there plenty of beaver? Not much; but there is plenty of moose. How many moose did you kill? Twenty-two. Well, that s very good. You must have also...
